

#11: “Fast Paced” - Must-See’s with Spam

Our action packed day starts at 8:00 AM and moves quickly through 7 must-sees of London then on to the Monty Python’s theatre show Spamalot.

Buckingham Palace – walk grounds of the Royal residences for nearly 1,000 years of British history. Their architecture and decoration reflect the personalities of successive kings and queens. <http://www.royal.gov.uk>

Westminster Abbey - This early-English Gothic abbey is the symbol of everything Britain has stood for and stands for, and the place in which most of its rulers were crowned and where many lie buried. Fee $19 / $11 www.westminster-abbey.org

#10 Downing Street - home of the Prime Minister Gordon Brown. www.number10.gov.uk/

Palace of Westminster - The Houses of Parliament, along with the trademark clock, Big Ben, are the ultimate symbols of London. Free www.parliament.uk

Horse Guard Parade – The Queens mounted changing of the guard ceremony at the headquarters of the British Army . Free www.army.mod.uk

National Gallery - The National Gallery has one of the world’s greatest collections of paintings, including works from Botticelli, Cezanne, Constable, Leonardo da Vinci, Monet, Rembrandt, Renoir, Raphael, and Van Gogh. Free www.nationalgallery.org.uk/

Covent Garden - The most famous market in all of England. There is a wide range of glassware and ceramics, leather goods, toys, clothes, hats and jewelry. There is also lots of fun street entertainment, mimes and music performers to watch. Free www.coventgardenmarket.com

Monty Python’s Spamalot at the Palace Theatre. The hilariously funny story of King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table search for the Holy Grail. Fee paid in advance approx. $40.00

Total Admission and Transportation:

Student: $57 - $67

Adult: $75 - $85

Additional $$ required for dinner and discretionary spending